

October 26, 1944

Enemy vehicles heard moving on road about 886463, moving north, were taken under artillery fire. Another strong patrol came in at dawn, and was driven back with heavy losses in fifteen minutes of fighting. Heavy enemy mortar fire was directed on both 1st and 2nd Battalion positions during the afternoon and late evening.

October 27, 1944

Another small-arms fight flared between German patrols and "G" Company outposts guards. Patrols sent out in the early morning from "A" and "B" Companies burned down two German houses which were being used as OP's, and then destroyed German tank.

October 28, 1944

1st Battalion sent patrols to the woods north of its sector, and these reported little enemy activity. 3rd Battalion company commanders and platoon leaders visited the 2nd Battalion positions prior to relieving that Battalion.

"C" Company patrols attacked a German pillbox that was placing machine-gun fire on the company position. Though the pillbox was not destroyed, the fire was silenced.

Harassing fire laid on roads by 1st and 2nd Battalions.

October 29, 1944

The 2nd Battalion requested an air mission on the Vorweiden-Eschweiler Road, where heavy enemy traffic was reported. Beginning in the late afternoon, the 3rd Battalion relieved the 2nd Battalion, completing this by 2315 hours.

Enemy planes dropped anti-personnel bombs in the 1st Battalion area.

October 30, 1944

About 0200 hours enemy planes again dropped bombs north of the 1st Battalion area, these landing on enemy positions. In an early morning attack, the 1st Battalion pushed to the woods, the 3rd Battalion pushed to straighten out the line.

October 31, 1944

About 10 rounds of 88mm fire landed in the 3rd Battalion area, then in the 1st Battalion area. Little damage was done. All was quiet during the remainder of the day and evening